Proper Plants Inc. is a local, family-owned greenhouse business that has been in Lexington since 1977. We grow primarily for the spring market and grow what we sell. As well as the old favorites, we grow many new and improved varieties of plants. To be environmentally conscious, Proper Plants has used predator insects and other forms of biological control since 2009. This has proven to be much more successful and better for our environment than chemical insecticides. We are open to the public.
